Fund commentary

Inflation moderation in different geographies, even below expectations, supports interest rate cuts by central banks in the coming months. This scenario is positive for fixed income, which is why yields fell in all maturities, although especially the shorter term ones. Equity indices generally consolidated their levels, although there was a significant sector rotation in favor of those correlated to interest rates.

During the period, some adjustments were made to the portfolio, taking profits in the Future Technology theme, mainly through Robotics, Fintech and Internet of Things, in the Axa Robotech, Amundi Information Technology and NB 5G funds. In the Future Society theme, weighting was increased in Asian Consumers with a position increase in GAM Luxury. The weighting in the Future Planet theme remained fairly stable and only the weighting in Resource Scarcity was reduced by selling part of the position in both funds.
