PART I(A) SCHEDULE OF FEES AND CHARGES FOR BANKING SERVICES PROVIDED TO SME CUSTOMERS

Chapter 1. General provisions

1. Santander Bank Polska S.A. ("Santander," "SAN PL" or "Bank") collects fees and charges in line with this Schedule of fees and charges collected by Santander Bank Polska S.A. for banking services provided to business customers, part I(A).

2. In the case of operations denominated in foreign currencies, the amount of fees and charges is set on the basis of:

- a) the equivalent of the operation amount in PLN (in the case of fees and charges denominated in PLN);
- b) the operation amount (in the case of fees and charges denominated in foreign currencies).

In the case of fees and charges denominated in PLN, the conversion is made at the average NBP rate applicable on the day of collecting the fee/charge, except for:

- fees/charges related to payment orders, which are converted at the average NBP rate applicable on the day preceding the day when the Bank accepted a duly placed payment order instruction;
- fees/charges related to the service of foreign currency loans, overdrafts and guarantees sanctioned/issued by Santander Bank Polska S.A., which are converted at the FX buy/sell rate for non-cash transactions of Santander Bank Polska S.A.;
- fees/charges related to the purchase/sale of foreign currencies at the cash desks of Santander Bank Polska S.A., which are converted at the FX buy/sell rate for cash transactions of Santander Bank Polska S.A.;
- fees/charges related to the purchase of export receivables (forfaiting), which are converted at the average NBP rate applicable on the payment execution day;
- fees/charges related to collections made in convertible foreign currencies or payments in convertible foreign currencies made under letters of credit or notified guarantees issued by another bank in favour of a customer of Santander Bank Polska S.A., which are converted at the FX buy/sell rate for non-cash transactions of Santander Bank Polska S.A.

The above exchange rates are applied accordingly to convert the amounts of operations, except for transactions made with payment cards.

3. In the case of foreign banks' costs that are denominated in a currency other than the currency in which they will be collected, the conversion is made at the average NBP rate applicable on the day when the costs are collected, except for costs of operations related to: convertible foreign currency collections; notified, indirect and confirmed foreign currency guarantees; and foreign currency letters of credit, which are all converted at the FX sell rate of Santander Bank Polska S.A.

4. Fees and charges are collected:

- a) on the day of placing or executing the instruction; or
- b) periodically on the last day of the calendar month in the case of the following fees and charges:
 - the fee for maintaining a settlement account, which is calculated for each started calendar month of account maintenance at the rate applicable on the fee collection date;

- the following aggregate (collective) fees, which are calculated at the rate applicable on the fee collection date:

- fees for transactions in the settlement account (transfers and direct debits, except for fees for instructions placed at outlets of Santander Bank Polska S.A. to revoke a direct debit instruction before its execution, or return funds paid under a direct debit, which are collected in line with 4(a) above) executed from the first to the last day of that month;
- fees for account statements provided on paper or as SWIFT messages and confirmations of operations (duplicates/attachments) provided along with those statements that were generated in the period from the last day of the previous calendar month up to and including the penultimate day of the relevant calendar month;

- the aggregate (collective) fees which are calculated at the rate applicable on the transaction execution date:

- fees for transactions in the settlement account (open cash deposits made by the holder to their own account, cash deposits made to cash deposit machines, cash withdrawals made at the outlets of Santander Bank Polska S.A.) executed from the first to the last day of a calendar month.

The provision on periodic collection of fees and charges does not apply to the fees and charges described in this Schedule of fees and charges as "additional" unless they have been mentioned above; or

c) for the following types of cards:

- debit cards:
 - monthly fees: payable by the fifth day of each calendar month following the calendar month for which they are collected. The fees are not charged for the month during which the agreement is made;
 - annual fees: the first fee is collected on the day when the agreement is made. Next fees are collected in subsequent years by the fifth day of the calendar month in which the anniversary of making the agreement falls (the date on which the fee is collected remains the same even if a new card has been issued in place of a cancelled one);
- charge cards: annual fees: the first fee is collected on the first day of the calendar month following the month during which the agreement is made. Next fees are collected in subsequent years on the anniversary of collecting the first fee (the date on which the fee is collected remains the same even if a new card has been issued in place of a cancelled one); or

d) on other dates specified in this Schedule of fees and charges or in agreements made between the customer and Santander Bank Polska S.A.

If the agreement under which periodic fees and/or charges are collected is terminated, all those fees and/or charges are collected on the last day of the period of that agreement.

At some outlets of the Bank, fees and charges for services provided by the Bank cannot be paid in cash. The list of those outlets can be accessed using the outlet and ATM locator available at www.santander.pl.

5. If the customer places an instruction to change the pricing tariff, the fees and charges referred to in 4(b) will be collected in line with the new tariff for the entire calendar month during which the tariff was changed.
6. All due fees and charges are payable by the party that ordered the relevant bank operation unless the parties to the operation have agreed otherwise or the instruction received by Santander Bank Polska S.A. specifies otherwise and the Santander Bank Polska S.A. accepts the change.
7. The amounts of collected fees and charges are rounded in line with generally accepted principles.
8. In addition to the fees and charges specified in this Schedule, the following fees and charges apply:
 - a) fees and charges collected by banks acting as agents during the execution of an order;
 - b) fees and charges for domestic and international telecommunications and postal services.
9. Fees and charges for banking services are not collected for:
 - a) operations related to the repayment of debts towards Santander Bank Polska S.A. or its subsidiaries, regardless of the form of the debt (except for the repayment of revolving loans and overdrafts);
 - b) cash deposits to accounts in KBC Securities N.V.;
 - c) payments of fees and charges due to the Bank made in convertible currency coins;
 - d) cash deposits made by customers of Santander Bank Polska S.A. to cover the tax on civil law transactions if the tax is payable in connection with services provided by Santander Bank Polska S.A.;
 - e) cash withdrawals made in connection with closing a settlement account;
 - f) transfer orders to a general account for purchases for a subfund offered by the Bank within the Santander Fundusz Inwestycyjny Otwarty fund or the Santander Prestiż Specjalistyczny Fundusz Inwestycyjny Otwarty fund ("Funds") made in connection with the purchase of fund units (this exclusion does not apply to transfers made to the dedicated bank account number specified in the unit certificate).
10. If a fee or charge for settlement accounts is listed without specifying its amount for individual pricing tariffs, it applies to all settlement accounts regardless of their pricing tariff.
11. The current account maintained on individually agreed terms and conditions is an account which bears a non-standard interest rate or which is subject to fees and charges collected in amounts or a manner different than specified in this Schedule of fees and charges (applies to the fees and charges specified in 4(b)). The first of all accounts maintained for the customer in PLN on individually agreed terms and conditions is the account whose maintenance fee is the closest to the standard fee (the account subject to the lowest discount).
12. For the purpose of this Schedule of fees and charges, the average account balance is calculated as the sum of all end-of-day balances in the account from the last day of the previous calendar month up to and including the last but one day of the current calendar month (applies to the fees and charges referred to in 4(b)), divided by the relevant number of days. This rule does not apply to:
 - the monthly fee for holding a high balance of funds in bank accounts (except for VAT accounts, term deposit accounts, overnight deposit accounts, custody accounts and escrow accounts) in the currencies whose interest rates are currently negative.
13. The fees for transfers to accounts in another bank do not apply to transfers of foreign currency funds to accounts in other Polish banks and transfers of funds to accounts in foreign banks. The fees and charges for those transactions are collected at the rates applicable to payment orders.
14. The fees and charges for transfers/cash deposits/payment instructions/direct debits to accounts in Santander Bank Polska S.A. apply also to the transactions of those types made to the accounts in the subsidiaries or partner outlets of Santander Bank Polska S.A.
15. Payment card transactions made in European Economic Area (EEA) member states in the currency of those states are subject to a fee if they are charged to an account maintained in another currency. The total fee amount is based on a margin equal to the percentage of the rate applied by the Bank in line with the relevant card terms and conditions and the transaction conversion fee (if any) to the latest euro FX reference rate published by the European Central Bank (ECB).
16. Unless this Schedule of fees and charges or other regulations specify otherwise, all fees and charges for services provided at the outlets of Santander Bank Polska S.A. apply also to banking services provided to business customers at the partner outlets of Santander Bank Polska S.A. The terms used in this Schedule of fees and charges have the following meaning:
 - a) outlet of Santander Bank Polska S.A.: a Bank branch, a partner outlet or any other organisational unit of the Bank servicing customers (as applicable);
 - b) partner outlet of Santander Bank Polska S.A.: the Bank's agency outlet operating under the name of "Partner Outlet of Santander Bank Polska."
17. The Bank reserves the right to modify the Schedule, in particular to change the levels of fees and charges, during the period of the agreement. The Bank can change the amounts of fees and charges only if at least one of the following factors has changed:
 - a) the amount of effort required to perform an operation/service or the scope and form of performing that operation/service;
 - b) money market and capital market instruments: the NBP reference rate, the NBP rediscount rate, the NBP lombard rate, the method used to calculate the reserves required from banks, the interest rates applied in the interbank market, the yield of T-bills issued by the Polish Minister of Finance, the yield of money bills issued by the NBP;
 - c) changes of the level of inflation or other macroeconomic factors;
 - d) changes in or implementation of the provisions of law, in particular tax and accounting regulations, applicable to the agreements between the bank and the customer.In addition, during the period of the agreement the Bank reserves the right to introduce new fees and charges and to add or stop adding the VAT to the amounts of fees and charges in line with the applicable tax law and its interpretation presented by tax authorities.
18. Santander Bank Polska S.A. will not inform its customers about changes in this Schedule of fees and charges if they involve only the introduction of new types of products or services of Santander Bank Polska S.A. or if they are related to the products or services which are not the subject of the agreement between the customer and the Bank.
